Ruthart's Home Is Total Loss

FOR COUNTY TAX PAYERS

Commissioners Lower Taxes For Third Year

For the third straight year, Randall County Commissioners have reduced county taxes.

This year's reduction came through the percentage taxable value. Commissioner C. Y. Johnson said the reduction would come to 16.6 per cent of the tax revenues from the 1961 tax rolls, and would save the taxpayers approximately $70,000 in 1962.

Johnson, in making the motion for reduction of the percentage of valuation used in figuring the tax rolls, said that property will be placed on the 1962 tax roll at 12 1/2 per cent of 100% valuation, as compared to 15 per cent of 100% valuation in 1961. The county tax rate is $1.50 per one hundred dollar value on the 12 1/2 percentage taxable value.

The decrease of taxes was brought about by a present accumulation of cash and investments. A surplus of $130,000 is expected by the court this year, said Johnson.

A tax reduction for 1961 decreased the percentage taxable value of personal property from 25% to 15% and on real property from 20% to 15%.

In 1960, Commissioners reduced taxes on city property by five per cent.

Clarence Beckman seconded Johnson's motion, and it passed unanimously.

In a morning session of court, commissioners approved January's bills. Judge Wayland C. Angel also told Democratic Chairman David Matthis that the cost of voting machines would be $25 each and local freight cost.

The court set Justice of Peace and County Court terms from month to month at anytime and place.

Beckman made a motion in the afternoon session to accept a blanket bond bid which would cover all 51 county employees. Low bid of $280.96 was submitted by Olen Huff Insurance Co. of Fort Worth.

In the past only ten employees had been bonded, each under separate policies, to handle county funds. The blanket bond will carry a less expensive rate considering some general revisions to ordinance 156. This ordinance deals with livestock within the city limits.

Commissioners discussed possibilities of revamping the ordinance concerning livestock being kept in the city limits. It was brought out that animals could possibly be kept in the city limits if they were some distance from any home.

In another animal request, the City Dads refused a request because the health inspector's report showed the area was a health hazard due to the proximity of other homes. Mrs. R. T. Nowlin had requested by letter that she be allowed to keep a horse in their back yard.

The Commissioners opened bids for water and sewer extensions to the Money Addition and awarded the bid to low bidder, Foran Construction Company. Foran's bid was $4,617.02. Other bidders and their bids were Stockon, $4,833.05; Brodie, $4,750.29; and Jordan, $4,677.45.

The City Dads then discussed with Bill Money revisions to the

City Dads Discuss Livestock Problem

Cows, horses and the Money Addition took most of the City Commission's time Monday night in one of their regular meetings.

The cows and horses were discussed at length by City Dads. The discussion came about because of a request for R. W. Thompson to keep cattle inside the city limits. The matter had been before the Commission earlier this year and they had requested for more information.

City Manager Bill York told the Commission this area for keeping the cows was located close to the City Park. York said he and City Health Inspector W. C. Stallings had conducted an investigation of the area and found no hazard exists at this time.

Mayor D. E. Lowes said if any complaints are made about the area or if it becomes a health hazard, "we will have to take action against the keeping of cattle within the city limits."

No action was taken on the Thompson's request, as the Commissioners said they were SPECTATORS WATCH the L. C. Ruthart home burn Monday afternoon. The fire started from possible faulty wiring and burned the attic and roof of the house. Mr. Ruthart's sons were working on a house two doors west and came to his aid, thus saving all the furnishings.

Neighbors Save Most Of House Furnishings

The L. C. Ruthart residence at 611 8th Ave. was declared "total damage" Monday by Canyon Fire Marshal Jack Jennings after fire swept up the west wall and across the ceiling of the frame structure.

The house, a landmark in Canyon, was built near the turn of the 20th century. It was originally owned by the Sam Shotwell family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruthart had resided there for the past 20 years.

The fire, reported at 2:15 p.m. by Mrs. Fred Thurman, a neighbor, already was smoldering out of control when spotted. She telephoned the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department and informed Mr. and Mrs. Ruthart that their home was on fire. He is 74 and his wife is 67.

Cause of the fire remained undetermined as of Tuesday, but Jennings said investigation was still underway.

When the structure began to burn, Crawford Ruthart and Donnell Ruthart, two sons, and Sherman McCarter started to lug out furniture and household goods. Neighbors and then firemen began to assist in the migration. Billows of smoke poured from the house.

Almost all of the furniture was removed from the house before smoke and water could do serious damage.

Although smoke and water damage to carpeting was reported rather severe, a cleaning and washing up process Tuesday was said to be rounding things into better shape.

The elderly couple are living temporarily in Crawford's house across the street from their home.

Jennings, in speaking of the large number of grass fires in the area, said there have been 11 city and nine county fires since the first of February.

The Fire Marshal called Monday for closer cooperation by residents when burning trash. He said the fire department would appreciate persons calling City Hall and having the trash emptied instead of burned. "With the humidity as low as 12 per cent, which it has been

He died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stacy Howell, of Rt. 4, Hereford, Tuesday at 6 p.m., following an illness of one year.

Mr. Springer, 82-years-old, was a retired Randall County farmer and had been living with his daughter for about one year.

He came to Randall County in 1922, moving from Mississippi. He was born Dec. 18, 1879 and married Feb. 11, 1903. His wife, Bertha, preceded him in death in 1938.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson will conduct the services and will be assisted by Rev. Orville Atkinson of the West Way Baptist church, located west of Hereford.

Slow Rain Soaks Soil

After three days of record heat for the winter months in the Panhandle, a slow rain for two days cooled off the area.

The temperature soared to 85 Sunday and remained in the lower 80's Monday and Tuesday, before the rain started early Wednesday morning.

Farmers are elated over the slow rain because it is soaking into the sub-soil and is expected to improve the wheat for grazing and for harvesting later in the year.

Weather bureau in Amarillo predicted the slow rain would continue through Thursday (today) and then the weather would begin to warm-up. High temperature expected today is 65 degrees, but for the rest of next week, the temperature is expected to be eight to 12 degrees above normal.

Bill Holmes, assistant professor in the geography department at West Texas State, measured the rain at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday and it totaled .35 of an inch.

London, Ohio, farmer, as he spoke last week before the Canyon Conservative Club. Donaldson came to Canyon to visit J. Evetts Haley, Jr., and was invited to speak before the club last Thursday.

"Let no one be misled into thinking that the present dilemma in agriculture due to federal farm policies is due to bureaucratic bumbling," Donaldson declared. "The present farm program is not stupid—it is sinister. The present state of costly chaos is not an accident—it was planned that way."

Donaldson quoted extensively from a speech delivered in Chicago last September by Congressman E. Y. Berry of South Dakota. The speech was entitled "Symptoms of Planned Destruction."

He said Berry accused "well-fare stagers" of planning the centralization of all government in Washington.

"We are not fighting communism, we are promoting it," he quoted Berry as having said.

"We are promoting it by

How To Get Acquainted

Dan Milhoan of Route 1, Canyon, has been getting acquainted with his neighbors and the countryside the hard way.

For the last month the farmer-rancher has searched breaks and ravines and asked questions about his lost cattle.

On Jan. 5 when snow and ice covered the area, Milhoan's electric fence became heavily coated with ice, fell down, and 142 head of Angus steers strolled away.

Milhoan said, "We found them in groups of 20, six and 10's for several days until they were all back in pasture but three." By last Wednesday he reported the remaining trio had been rounded up.

Milhoan said, "I drove more than 300 miles looking for those steers and almost wore out my car." He said he saw tumbleweeds and once a roll of wire that he mistook for a stray.

Milhoan found the remaining cattle, two of them, six miles from home, and the other about a mile away. All three, wearing an "E" brand, were grazing contentedly with neighboring Angus.

"One good thing that came out of it all, he said, "I at least got acquainted with my neighbors."

Vandals Waste Water

City Manager Bill York made an appeal to Canyonites to help the officers catch vandals who have been turning on fire hydrants late at night.

York requests any citizen who sees the person or persons turning on the fire hydrants to call the police department. He said the vandals have been costing the city a lot of money by wasting the water, which flows out of the six inch lines at a rapid pace.

Last week, the vandals had turned the fire hydrant on for the fourth time in recent weeks.

BY DR. J. A. HILL

Today this column gives you a history test. Everything that follows this paragraph is either by or about a certain American idol. Study it carefully and tell some one in your own family the name of the person involved and what you think of the wisdom contained in the quotations.

"No man is good enough to govern another without that other's consent."

"All I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

"I don't think much of a man who is not wiser today than he was yesterday."

"I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live by the light I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong."

"With the fearful strain that is on me night and day, if I did not laugh I should die."

"The best way to get a bad law repealed is to enforce it strictly."

"If ever this free people, if this government itself is every utterly demoralized, it will come from this incessant human wriggle for office, which is but a way to live without work."

"You may deceive all the people part of the time, and part of the people all of the time, but not all the people all the time."

"I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me, seemed insufficient for the day."

"Honest statesmanship is the wise employment of individual meannesses for the public good."

"Every man's legs ought to be long enough to reach the ground."

"It has ever been my experience that folks who have no vices have very few virtues."

"Men will imitate and admire his unmoved firmness, his inflexible conscience for the right; and yet his gentleness, as tender as a woman's, his moderation of spirit, which not all the heat of party could inflame, not all the jars and disturbances of this country shake out of his place; I swear you to an emulation of his justice, his moderation, and his mercy." Henry Ward Beecher.

"I know there is a God, and--if He has a place for me, and I think He has, I believe I am ready. I am nothing, but truth is everything.---I know that liberty is right, for Christ teaches it, and Christ is God."

"Die when I may, I want it said of me by those who knew me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower where I thought a flower would grow."

"The true rule, in determining to embrace or reject anything, is not whether it have any evil in it, but whether it have more of evil than of good. There are few things wholly evil or wholly good. Almost everything especially of government policy, is an inseparable compound of the two, so that our best judgment of the preponderance between them is continually demanded."

"It is no time to swap horses when you are crossing the stream."

"His heart was as great as the world, but there was no room in it to hold the memory of a wrong." Emerson

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we are in; to bind up the Nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan--to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves with all nations."

"Now he belongs to the ages." Edwin M. Stanton.

The Pleasure of Our Company

(An Editorial)

The editor of the Wall Street Journal noted in a recent editorial that some years ago he was proposed for membership in the exclusive Cosmos Club of Washington, D. C.

For reasons the editor never heard, he was not elected. There was no national hubbub about it either, because he was not a Negro.

More recently, the same Cosmos Club rejected the membership application of a State Department official who happened to be a Negro.

This rejection grew into a national event. The president of the United States resigned from the Cosmos Club. The Attorney General of the United States started an investigation, muttering vague threats about closing down the club if they were being discriminatory.

The objective of all the hubbub is to challenge the right of this club to reject anyone, as a Negro.

This is getting into dangerous ground, indeed. Nor are private clubs the only target. The right of people privately to choose their associates in other ways, as for example in living as neighbors, has also been challenged, both with the weight of the law and the weapon of public castigation.

All this is done in the name of civil rights. The right of a person to be welcomed by others, his right to join a club, is placed on the same basis as his right to vote, to receive justice in the courts and to share in all of the public facilities on an equal basis with every other citizen.

This is not the same thing. Forcing private clubs and private individuals to accept members against their will is to destroy them.

What is being overlooked is one of the most fundamental rights of all--the freedom to choose one's friends and social associates. This above all is no affair of the state or society. Ochiltree County Herald

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

We had the temerity a couple of weeks ago to suggest that General Edwin Walker might not be as bad as he has been painted by some.

Naturally, H. M. Baggerly of Tulsa leaped on this. He promptly labelled this writer as McCarthyist and an extremist.

It is significant that Baggerly has long been an advocate in print of strong centralized government. His column in The Tulsa Herald has been a protagonist of the welfare state.

Baggerly shrills at those who would shush HIM but has attempted to ridicule in print those who speak THEIR piece.

By use of perverted equation, Baggerly sets out to prove that we are on the same side with the extreme right and then with the same equation tries to prove that we are to the left.

Baggerly makes use of the double - talk, double - think system used by propagandists since Egyptians first applied quill and grape juice to papyrus several thousand years ago.

It is a system being used adroitly by socialists and communists the world over today.

For instance the Soviet Union says it is fighting for "peace." That is laudable but peace doesn't mean the same thing in the Soviet Union that it means here. Peace to the Soviet propagandist signifies a situation in which all resistance to communism ceases to exist and communism is allowed to exist in "peace."

In the double - think, double-talk system as used by the world communist movement, "truth" is whatever happens to serve the purpose at the time. Use of this system has great advantage in advancing argument since the user is not hidebound by mere facts.

To get back to General Walker. The general has served his country well over the past three decades. The exact nature of the offense he is supposed to have committed in Germany has never been made clear. We certainly must agree that the military always must be subject to civilian authority.

We admire the general for having resigned his commission. No one can question his right to give the administration hades, now that he no longer is on the pay roll.

We do not know what kind of candidate General Walker will make in his race for governor. He is not an articulate man. One could not expect him to be after his having spent most of his adult life in the Army.

The general is not a crowd pleaser. This may not be a qualification necessary to holding an office but it is in getting elected.

He is far too brusque with reporters to expect a sympathetic press.

We gather from the general's talks that he principally fears internationalism, communism and the imperialistic designs of the Russian and Chinese communists.

He believes this country's vitality and will to win is sapped by internationalists, communists and socialists here at home.

We agree with the theory. The thing remaining to be seen is whether he has enough appeal to the voters to get elected and then enough ability to lead in getting something done to remedy the situation.

If the general is elected, he also is going to find that leading is a lot different in civilian life than it is in the Army.

Inhabitants of the French Isle of Sein have lost a unique status that made them the envy of taxpayers all over the globe. Until Jan. 17, when the first French income tax collector arrived on Sein, they had enjoyed a pay-nothing, get-nothing relationship with the French government by unwritten agreement.

When the islanders wanted a dispensary, the government built it. Next came the tax collector. Now these simple French fisherman have learned a lesson many Americans don't understand--nothing is free, especially when it comes from the government.--DALLAS NEWS lately, he warned, "The crisp dried-out grass can be whipped into an uncontrolled fire by such trash burning."

Sunday at 12:30 a large grass fire on the Ed Money place took an hour to bring under control. The fire was said to have started after a piece of burning paper blew from a trash barrel. Firemen extinguished the blaze, but not until it had burned an estimated 10 to 15 acres. The same fire burned off about five acres of grass on the adjoining Ernest Brown place.

Another grass fire sent firemen to 103 17th street Monday when burning trash was again said responsible for the outburst. One other minor grass fire Monday resulted in a departmental call.

The burning of the V.F.W. grounds last week was a part of the preparation for the coming "V.F.W. Week" according to Commander D. S. Owens.

He explained that the action was well planned and supervised to prevent possible destructive and accidental fires.

Owens said a special note of appreciation was due Fire Chief Charlie Foster for standing by with a fire truck, and remaining on the grounds until 2 a.m. Saturday.

At least two former commanders and several club members helped with supervision of the fire.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Troy,

I want to congratulate Mrs. Fletcher Sims publically on her well-expressed letter. I appreciate her position. She may not understand Walter Rogers nor why I feel Walter Rogers should be returned to the House of Representatives in Washington. However, I want her to know that I do understand why she is for Jack Seale and if I were not so stimulated and excited by the tremendous age that I live in I, too, would be for Jack Seale.

The peoples of the earth stand at the beginning of a new awakening or the edge of utter destruction. In fact this letter of mine may never get into the Canyon News because there may be no Canyon News by next Thursday. Some Oriental peoples are predicting the end of the world Monday, February 5. In case they should be wrong, and the world should stagger on with the world convulsion shaking it to its very foundations, I would like to quote from the December issue of Social Progress (published by the office of Church and Society of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church):

"We face the first truly world-wide revolution in history, the first time that everywhere all institutions of the past seem inadequate and all things appear simultaneously and unprecedently out of joint." This quote from M. Richard Shaul's Encounter with Revolution by Social Progress sets the tone of the rest of the article called "The Revolution--NON-communist."

It will take a man of much experience and worldly wisdom to contain the whirlwind let alone keep us from being blown away. If Jack Seale is the man may the good Lord let him win.

Expectedly,
Elizabeth V. de Schweinitz

Dear Mr. Martin,

May I half-jokingly remark that although I do not agree with your editorial policy, I will, with my $5.10 subscription renewal, defend your right to make and print it.

I do enjoy reading the entire paper--even the ads and the editorials, but what has happened to Farmer Sheaffer?

I could wish that we could go back in time, when Canyon was populated with people I know, and as I knew them 20 years ago. Then everything I read would be familiar to me. But that wish is impossible to grant; we are all 20 years older, and I must meet Canyon and her people as they are today through the pages of your newspaper.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Merrie Lib Kendrick

CITY DADS

Money Agreement. The new memorandum said certain clauses were ambiguous and difficult to understand to both parties and clarification was needed. Commissioners wanted the memorandum completed with the figures for pay-back included. They instructed York to have the memorandum ready for the next meeting.

After some discussion with Money on two connections to an eight inch sewer line and consulting City Commission minutes, the City Dads requested for another clarification agreement because the minutes were not clear in meaning.

Then the Commissioners approved the pay-back to the Pioneer Estates. The pay-back comes from the water fund and amounted to $4,549.53 this year.

A preliminary report on the budget was given by York. He told the Commissioners an increase of tax revenues would result because of 72 new homes were completed this past year.

York explained the complicated transfer of money from one fund to another and why it was necessary. Transfer of money from water to general funds to the interest and sinking fund is required.

He showed the Commissioners how the preliminary budget was prepared and said at the next meeting they would get into expenditures of each department to see where the money is being spent.

Commissioners heard a written request from Dr. Dudley Moore. He wanted the city to bear the expenses of lighting the ball park in the summer months. The City Dads sent a letter to Dr. Moore explaining they had been losing money on the park program and they couldn't see going deeper in the red at this time. The Commissioners also thanked Dr. Moore for his fine work performed at the park.

The City Dads appointed H. R. Fulton, Jr. for another term to the park board and then appointed E. D. Walker to replace E. J. Webb, whose term had expired.

They told York to take what steps necessary to have a truck unloading zone in front of two girls' dormitories on 4th Ave.

The Commissioners granted a contract with Bob Thomas of Umbarger for salvage rights at the city dump grounds. They also discussed the County fire truck, civil defense and the city helping to clean-up several sore spots in the city. York told the group only seven persons were left on the delinquent tax rolls, and suits would be filed individually next week.

FARMER

Abt, Nathan Witt, Nathaniel Weyl and Charles Kramer." Donaldson charged that this group set out to communize American agriculture. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 was nullified by the Supreme Court in 1936 but was re-passed in 1938 and now is known as the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and serves as the basic Act of present farm policy.

He said the AAA concentrates dangerous legislative and judicial powers within the executive department of government. He said it allows the USDA to conduct its own courts and write many of its own laws.

He ripped into the USDA method of conducting referendum elections. He said the rules governing such elections are promulgated by the secretary of agriculture. He said Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau, has denounced the referendum as a fraud. "I heartily concur with him and his contention is supported by the results of numerous polls," Donaldson declared.

Donaldson said present farm laws delegate virtual blank check powers to the secretary of agriculture to write regulations implementing the various sections of the acts.

"Once these regulations are entered in the Federal Register, they become the law of the land just as an act of Congress," Donaldson asserted bitterly. "Thus new regulations may be promulgated and old ones changed at the whim of the secretary (or to be more exact at the whim of the bureaucracy) so long as such regulations lie within the scope of the Act of Congress as interpreted by USDA."

Donaldson declared this a dangerous mergence of legislative and executive power.

Donaldson further charged that the present Act in many cases denies the farmer the protection of courts normally taken for granted by American citizens.

The Ohio farmer labelled imposition of compulsory quotas restricting the production of a farmer as "obvious usurpation of his traditional rights to use his farm property."

Donaldson predicted that the government may seize title to soil bank land when soil bank contracts begin to expire in two or three years.

He quoted John Schnitzer, advisor to Dr. Willard Cochrane, as saying there is nothing wrong with the government taking title to this land since "it has paid one and a half to two

Curves 'In Style' for Spring

Fit in fashion this season means that after several years' "absence", feminine curves are back. The natural waistline has once again become an important focal point for flattering fashions. The waistline is no longer hidden under shapeless overblouses or up-and-down shapes. Waists and hips, too, are there... not blatantly defined but with a lithe, slender always gentle definition.

Skirts are full — they may be pleated, flared or flounced, but the fullness starts from slim hips, the flare is at the hem primarily.

The bosom line is more defined for spring. Set-in sleeves, darts, seaming, high placed pockets, are but a few of the details that make bosoms and bodies important in fashion this spring.

The "return" of the curve seems to make spring '62 silhouettes look more adventure some than in many seasons. Fit and fabric combine to bring new apparel closer to the body. The accentuated midriff, softly-embracing bodices and the slender smoothness of the soft flare are all curve makers.

Trumpet flare capelets over softly-molded sheath dresses, tucked and draped chiffon bodices, cummerbund-effect midriffs, side closing jacket lines, draped cowls, softly-scooped necklines and many other details enhance the neatly-defined curve of bosoms.

Below the waistline, fashionably-pitched curves are shaped with nipped-in waists with low-placed, waistline details; draped sheaths; side panels and wrapped skirts. Asymmetrical-detailed skirts; detailing at torso and dome-shaped full skirts are but a few of the many exciting, perfectly beautiful, perfectly simple curve-makers that delineate the new '62 look of femininity.

The magnificent structure will not be complete without a good hour striking clock in its tower, by which all who reside in or visit our city may be uniform in knowing the time and prompt to meet engagements for business, pleasure or worship, whether men, women or school children. The clock will be a thing of beauty, a joy forever and useful to all.

A TRIP TO EMMA

Leaving Canyon Monday evening in company with Mr. Winder, of Leonard, we landed in Plainview on time. The next morning we were properly packed in the mail hack, but it was mostly a "male" load.

On we went the full length of the day changing mules—that is they were called mules, four times. So, at last finding ourselves in the beautiful little town of Emma, the county seat of Crosby County. Emma, is and will be hindered in growth by two things: men, owning large tracts and will not sell, and the town itself is laid off big enough for a Dallas or Fort Worth.

So, we spent the night in the leading hotel,—but one there, and caught the mail hack as she came sweeping through from the little town of Crosbyton.

It took us all day to make Plainview, stopping at Petersburg for dinner.

ABC Correspondent Will Be Festival Banquet Speaker

Lisa Howard, dynamic correspondent and lecturer for the American Broadcasting Company, will be speaker for the banquet Friday initiating the annual Festival of the Arts at West Texas State College.

Preceding the banquet at 7:30 p.m., Miss Howard is to speak at a special assembly at 11 a.m. in the Administration Building auditorium, and will hold a conference with newspaper, radio and television representatives of the area. The conference at 4 p.m. will be in the Intimate Theatre in the Fine Arts Building.

A special feature of the banquet Friday night will be the presentation of awards to three "outstanding persons" in the Panhandle area in the fields of art, music, and speech.

Tickets for the banquet, costing $2.50 each, are now on sale at Cooper & Melin in Amarillo, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, the business office at WT, and in the art, music, and speech department offices in the Fine Arts Building.

Master of ceremonies for the banquet will be Dr. Crannell Tolliver, head of the WT speech department and general chairman for the festival. Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean of WT will welcome visitors, and music will be by the Amarillo Madrigal Singers.

Miss Howard has earned fame in the past few years for her outstanding journalistic feats for ABC radio and television in national and international reporting. She was the only American Correspondent to receive an interview with Khrushchev at the Paris Summit Conference.

While Miss Howard has compiled an enviable record in reporting, her talents have also been displayed in other fields. After receiving her B. A. in Theatre Arts from the Pasadena Playhouse Miss Howard went on to become a successful actress.

She appeared in leading roles on all the major dramatic television shows, and for three years she appeared as Louise Grimsley in the popular CBS COMMISSIONERS (from page 1) for all 51 persons combined.

Bids, submitted by local insurance firms were: Hosea Foster, $301.91; George Blackwell, $353.15; and Carroll Vaughan, $353.13.

television drama, "The Edge of Night."

be played by Jerry Ballew, Perryton junior, who has had wide experience on the BIT stage. He has played lead roles in a wide range of productions for the past three years. The role of Sarah, his wife, will be portrayed by Barsha Fowler, Dalhart junior, who is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity.

Story of "J.B." is told by Atkinson, "The J. B. of the title is the modern counterpart of Job, and the drama tests his fidelity to God in terms of 20th Century calamities. By inventing an imaginative form, Mr. MacLeish has given his play a long perspective. "J.B." is set in a circus tent with an upper platform that represents heaven, and a performing ring on the floor that represents the earth. God (Mr. Zuss) and Satan (Nickles) are played in masks by two old circus vendors, and the story of the modern Job is a play within a play.

In the first scene, J.B. is a happy prosperous businessman surrounded by his family, whom he loves, and grateful to God for his abundant good fortune. Then God proceeds to enlighten him about the nature of life with a series of afflictions.

The story is told by a roustabout, played by Ronny Parks of Paducah, who is also student director of the play. Mr. Zuss is portrayed by Gene Lewis, WT instructor in speech, and Nickles by Bill Brooks of Borger. The children of J. B. are played by Billie Wesley of Happy, three Canyon youngsters, Roger Wilson, Mark Olson, and Kay Nester, and Cindy Lewis, an Amarillo junior high student.

J.B.'s comforters, Bildad, Zophar, and Eliphaz, are played by Dwayne Smith of Pampa, Russell Brummett of Borger, and Gary Wertenberg of Hereford. Others in the cast include Mrs. Gloria Lewis of Amarillo, Lydia Miller of Midland, Lida Fiveash of Big Spring, Jenny Lynn Massad of Spearman, Gary Tydings of Hobbs, Harry Gilstrap of Amarillo, Sheri Davis of Canadian, and Judy Buchanan of Dumas. Gary Wyatt of Dimmitt is "the distant voice."

She wanted to write, and has published articles on government and world affairs in some of the nation's most scholarly magazines. Last year, her first novel, "On Stage, Miss Douglas," was published.

Most remarkable has been her career as a political reporter. With her usual tenacity of purpose, she persuaded Mutual News to let her cover the Democratic Convention of 1960, her first reportorial assignment. She wound up interviewing 38 top Democrats, and she was equally successful covering the Republican Convention. She stayed on as Mutual's top-flight reporter.

Miss Howard received an exclusive 30-minute interview with John F. Kennedy in the middle of his campaign for the Presidency. Her most fantastic journalistic feat came during Khrushchev's visit to the UN in the fall of 1960, when she broke past a police line and persuaded him to give her a few minutes of his time. The few minutes ended in an hour and forty-eight minute interview which brought her national attention and international headlines.

When James Hagerty took over as head of news for ABC, he signed Miss Howard as their first and only full time woman reporter. Now appearing continuously on ABC television, she has covered such varied topics as the Kennedy-Khrushchev Summit meeting in Vienna, the FCC hearings, the Newburgh, N.Y., welfare case, the United Nations; and the New York political scene.

Angel Hears Four Cases

County Judge Wayland Angel tried four cases this past week in County Court, three of them for aggravated assault.

Nicky Branch, 21-year-old Amarillo man, was fined $1 and costs plus one year in county jail for aggravated assault. He is under three year adult probation. His Amarillo address is 209 Rusk.

Two other young men were fined $100 and costs, plus 30 days in county jail for aggravated assault. Rex Bennett and Rodger Wayne Buckles, both 19-years-old, gave 1411 20th in Amarillo as their address.

The other case heard by Judge Angel was simple assault. He fined Margaret Rogers of Amarillo $1 and costs.

Trustee Race Still Wide Open

Mrs. Clay Cooper, Canyon school board secretary, said this week no new candidates had filed for trustee positions open this term.

Three positions were made vacant by expiring tenures.

Only one incumbent, Walter Graham, has submitted for reelection.

Those filing last week were Jerry LaGrone and Pete Cowart.

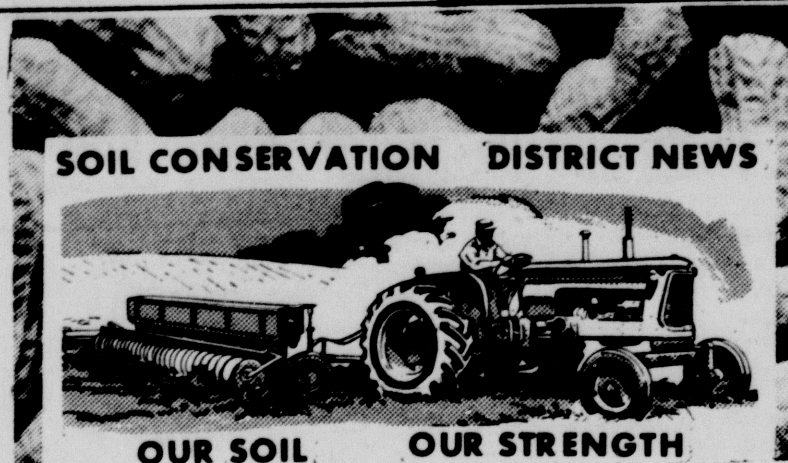

Deadline for placing one's name on ballot is March 8.

MEN'S FORMALS MORE COLORFUL, LIGHTER WEIGHT

Formalwear for spring 1962 embodies both the plain and the fancy. Naturally, the first choice for warm weather evening wear is the classic white dinner jacket worn with black tropic-weight dress trousers. However, equally correct are the soft blues, both the bold and subdued reds, and the other solid shades that mark modern summer dinner jackets. Many are made in washwear constructions, too.

Warm weather formal wear flaunts some fancy innovations, including dinner jackets in patterned madras, batik prints and opulent colored silks and silk finished fabrics.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL OUR STRENGTH

What has happened to the wildlife? We often hear comments such as this when we have difficulty in finding game and fish. We have in many instances farmed out certain species. All wildlife including fish are alike in the respect that they require protective cover and food.

Food must be available year around and within safe foraging distance of habitable cover. Food supplies must also meet the needs of the game species at different seasons as diet often changes. For example the adult bird may feed principally on seeds but the young may be fed on insects or soft fruits etc. Water may also be a limiting factor and should be readily available within foraging distance of cover.

Cover must give adequate protection from the elements and enemies and provide suitable nesting. Brush cover may also provide food in season.

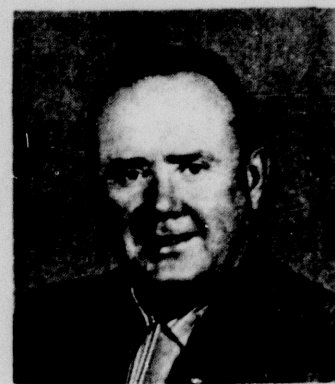

Improvement of wildlife habitats fit in well with conservation practices. For instance eroded areas can be controlled with vegetation (brush and grass) which will provide cover and food when protected from cultivation, grazing, and fire. Windbreaks containing low shrubs in outer rows or brush areas on rangeland will serve the same purposes. A few outer rows of grain crops may be left standing bordering protected areas or game feeders located over the farm to provide additional food supply. Rotation of rangeland may be done so that areas may be free of stock curing nesting of certain birds or specific areas fended.

Stock ponds should be protected by fencing and silting prevented. The shallower portions when properly planted to aquatic or marsh vegetation will give suitable cover and food to water fowl and fish. Worthwhile yields of fish can be had from properly managed farm ponds.

Often with very little trouble we could farm wildlife in rather than out. For more information contact your SCD supervisors or Soil Conservation technicians.

Seals Helps Buffs Improve

Last Home Games Sat. and Monday

What West Texas State's basketball team pulls out of the grab bag has been a surprise in the last seven games and most of it can be attributed to David Seal.

Seal, who was ineligible until the second semester because of scholastic reasons, has scored 90 points in six games, for an average of 15 points per contest. It isn't necessarily his scoring that has helped the team as much as his ability to be a play-maker and spark-plug the team.

He has made 46 free throws and 22 field goals.

Coach Metz LaFollette will have his hands full with the Buff's next opponent, Texas Western. This defensive minded team plays a slow deliberate type offense and is coached by the former Dumas basketball mentor, Don Haskins. He played basketball at Oklahoma A&M under the great defensive coach Hank Iba.

The Buffs will host the Texas Western quintet Saturday night and will have to be on their toes if they expect to win this game. The El Paso quintet plays each game with consistency, not making many mistakes and depending upon their opponent's miscues to help them. Most of the games the Texas Western team plays are low scoring affairs, in the 40's and 50's.

It will definitely slow down the Buffs, who have scored over 100 points in two of their recent games.

Another factor which might hurt WT's chances, although he has missed the last two games with a sprained ankle, is the absence of Scottie Pierce. The Buffs have also lost the services of George Scott because of disciplinary reasons.

Then next Monday night, the WT quintet will host the New Mexico State University Aggies in their last home appearance. The Aggies, who were co-champions last year with the Arizona State Sun Devils, have 0-3 record in conference play this season.

Going into the game against Texas Western, the Buffs will have a 2-2 conference record, while the Texas Western quintet is 1-2. The El Paso team has lost twice to Arizona State and have beaten New Mexico State.

In the Buff's game last Monday night against the Arizona University Wildcats, the WT quintet won 87-72.

The Buffs hit for 63% of their field goals attempted the first half to lead by 14 points, 50-36. From then on, the Buffs had the game won with their sharp shooting tactics.

During the last half, the WT quintet poured 37 points through the nets, while holding their visitors to 36 more points.

Five Buffs hit in the double digits against the Wildcats. Frank Schaffer led the group with 28 points, ten field goals and eight charity tosses. Other double digit scorers were Jim Curtsinger, 21; Jim Conner, 14; David Seal, 13; and Sonny Blankenship, 10.

Last Saturday night, the Buffs almost pulled the upset of the year against 16th ranked Arizona State Sun Devils. The Sun Devils managed to escape somehow with a 107-103 win and the Border Conference flag. They will represent the conference in NCAA play-offs.

But the inspired playing of the WT Buffalos before a sparse crowd of 400, kept the fans on their feet most of the time yelling for the Buffs.

The Buffs went ahead by one or two points several times during the first half and tied the score 49-49 at the end of the initial half. The WT quintet went ahead by one point with only 40 seconds played during the second half, but the Sun Devils got mad and scored more points than they had the first half.

At one time during the second half, the Sun Devils went ahead by 12 points, but the determined Buffs slowly cut their lead to four points.

With 2:40 left in the contest, the Sun Devils led by 10 points, 102-92, but a full-court press by the Buffalos helped cut the lead.

Five WT players scored in the double figures, with Frank Schaffer hitting for 25 points. Other double digit scorers include David Seal, 23; Sonny Blankenship, 22; Jim Conner, 15; and Jim Curtsinger, 12.

WT Freshmen Win Two

West Texas State's freshmen basketball team won two games in a row, beating Lubbock Christian College 93-88 Saturday night and Texas Tech freshmen 83-78 Monday night. Both games were played in Canyon.

Against LCC's quintet, the WT freshmen led 52-48 at half-time and were paced in their win by Vernon Welch and Jerry McGuire. Welch scored 30 points, while McGuire was close behind with 28 points.

In the Texas Tech contest, the WT freshmen took a narrow lead at half-time 37-35, but threw up a stiff defense and a good offense to beat the Tech team by five points.

Leading the Calves attack against the Tech quintet was Bobby Roland with 27 points. Vernon Welch scored 18 points and Ray Cast hit for 17 points.

JOE CALDWELL, Arizona State forward, comes down with a rebound in the game Saturday night with the West Texas State Buffs. Looking on is Buff Frank Schaffer, and Sun Devil Art Becker. The Sun Devils wrapped up the Border Conference Title with their 107-103 win over the Buffs.

Two local golfers made holes in one while playing on the Canyon City Club during the last two weeks.

Ross Craig scored first with a hole in one Feb. 7 when he slammed the golf ball off of tee number seven. Par on this hole is three.

Rev. Newton Starnes hit the magic circle with a hole in one off of tee number five Feb. 12. Par for this hole is three. In previous years, golfers have averaged about two holes in one during the season.

Eagles Escape Chief's Hatchet In Overtime By Single Point

Frona almost pulled an upset against Canyon in the last game of district play, but the Eagles pulled it out of the fire in an overtime contest.

However, Canyon only edged past the up-coming Frona Chiefs by a single point, 41-40.

Frona slowed the game down to an easy pace and made Canyon play their style of basketball, which almost proved disastrous to the Eagles. With this win, Canyon evened their district record at 4-4 to take third place behind Tulla and Dimmitt, who tied for the flag at 7-1. A play-off between these two teams began Tuesday with Dimmitt playing at Tulla. Tonight Tulla travels to Dimmitt and if a third game is necessary, it will be played Saturday afternoon at four in West Texas State's gym.

The CHS quintet led most of the time until the fourth quarter. With 6:30 left in the final period, Frona tied the score. Lillard was under the basket and made a jump shot, to narrow Canyon's lead to one point, but he was fouled in the process of shooting and received one charity toss. He made the free shot and tied the score.

Frona went ahead with 4:45 left in this period when Snead made a jump shot. Canyon tied the score when Begert made two free shots after he was fouled by Lillard. Frona's Lillard had scored 12 points before he fouled out on this miscue. Wayne Rutherford put CHS ahead once again with two charity tosses. He was fouled by Jackson with 4:13 left on the clock.

Frona's Thomas made a lay-up shot count with only 1:59 left in the fourth stanza to tie the score and Richard Green missed an one-and-one free throw with 1:15 left to play in the game. The regulation contest ended with the score tied 38-38.

During the three-minute overtime period, twice Canyon players threw the ball away and once missed a lay-up shot.

CHS went to a slow stalling pace and with five seconds left, Lisle hit a short jumper from under the basket for two points. Daniel fouled Lisle, who made his first free throw of the night. Snead made a lay-up as the horn sounded and Canyon won. Running account of the Canyon-Frona contest.

Coke Party Planned for Saturday Night

All seventh and eighth grade students of Canyon Junior High School are invited to attend a coke party, Saturday night, Feb. 17, from 7:30 until 10 o'clock in the Junior Livestock Building.

Games, square and ballroom dancing will provide the evening's recreation. Anyone having records is urged to bring them. This party is to be sponsored by adults.

Debut Recital Planned Sun.

The debut recital of Bill Evans, new instructor in piano at West Texas State College, will be presented Sunday at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of the Fine Arts Building. The program is open to the public.

The recital is a feature of the annual Festival of the Arts, which opens Friday with a banquet at WT.

Although this is Evans' first solo recital in this area, it is not his first performance here. In 1958 he won first place in the young artist competition sponsored by the Amarillo Symphony, and as a result, he performed Beethoven's third concerto with the orchestra.

At that time he was studying piano with Jack Hendrix, chairman of the music department at Howard County Junior College, in Big Spring, where Evans was born. From the junior college, he went to North Texas State, where he continued studying with Stefan Bardas, resident pianist at NTSC. He was graduated with honors in 1960.

For his first faculty recital, Evans has chosen to play Mozart's "Sonata in F Major, K. 322," Chopin's "Nocturne in F Minor," "Impromptu in A-flat Major," and "Ballade in G Minor," Schubert's "Sonata in A Major," and Prokofiev's "Suggestion Diabolique."

Following the program, a reception is scheduled in the formal lounge, where art exhibitions for the festival will be shown.

LaFollette said going from the metal backboards to the glass backboard will definitely hurt a team's shooting average. There is some difference, as the glass is more resilient than the metal to the ball.

Maybe, the district Canyon

Tally Sheet

By Marvin Ellis

Glass backboards versus steel backboards.

This could have been a reason for the Eagles losing some of their games this year, but it is highly improbable. At home, the CHS quintet have fan-shaped metal backboards, while most of the teams they played this year have glass rectangular shaped backboards.

High School Principal J. E. Miller said he thought the district teams should be consistent in the type of backboards used and believes the Interscholastic League should list only one type.

The IL listed four types of backboards that can be used. First, there is the rectangular steel, the others are rectangular glass, fan-shaped glass and fan-shaped metal.

Tulla, Dimmitt and Frona had the rectangular glass while Dalhart had the fan-shaped metal backboards in their "barn" gymnasium. However, in their new gym, glass rectangular boards will be used.

Glass rectangular boards cost $500 a pair, while the metal counterpart only cost $130 a pair. Quite a difference in price for the two types.

Coach Metz LaFollette said glass backboards were first used for gymnasiums with seats behind the backboards, in order to let all fans see the action. Play-off games are played in the college gymnasiums, which have this circular seating pattern, and more and more high schools got glass backboards where they would be familiar with their peculiarities.

LaFollette said going from the metal backboards to the glass backboard will definitely hurt a team's shooting average. There is some difference, as the glass is more resilient than the metal to the ball.

Maybe, the district Canyon

reaches a high level pitch in many games.

And sometimes fans will throw pennies on the court to the officials for a bad call, but these antics don't bother the officials. They do express concern a player might slip on a copper. It could be dangerous to the players.

I remember a school in East Texas which was suspended by the IL from all competition because a father of one of the players chased down an official with his car and attacked him. The school was barred from any championships in all sports for two years.

Many officials have said they expect to get booed and one said recently "the fans pay to see the game and have the right to express themselves by booing us when they think we have made a wrong call. If I don't get booed during a game, I feel that I have done a lousy job."

When fans yell at professional basketball officials in close quarters of the gyms, they don't usually get his goat, but the "ham" officials eat up the booing as if it were "applauds" for a good job.

Didn't have time to complete the records on the high school basketball race, so it will be next week before the summary is ready.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

Mary Caballero

Although I couldn't find a record of this "great artist," I felt the story was interesting and unusual. It was published in the "Potboiler" a little magazine put out by Kildee-Bradley Art Gallery.

The Largest Painting Ever Executed by Man

John Banvard was born in New York City on November 15, 1815. Because of financial reverses in his family he had to leave school at the age of fifteen. His first job was that of a drug clerk in Louisville, Kentucky, but he wasted so much time making sketches and not attending to customers that he was soon fired.

Banvard shifted from job to job until, at the age of twenty-five, he suddenly made up his mind that he would paint a panorama of the Mississippi River from its source to the city of New Orleans. Now with most young men this would be just a wild dream since such an undertaking is almost beyond human endeavor, but Banvard was not like most young men. He worked at odd jobs and saved enough money to buy a tiny skiff and start out on the venture. For more than 400 days and nights he lived on the banks of the river, hunting his food by day and sleeping under his skiff at night. Many a stormy night was spent sitting on a log to escape any caving in of the banks of the river or possibly a falling tree.

How many sketches Banvard made is not known—perhaps thousands. All of them were carefully drawn and accurately represented the entire length of the Mississippi. When he finished this enormous task he was penniless so he went to work again to earn enough to build himself a makeshift studio outside of Louisville and, from the cotton mills of Lowell, Massachusetts, to buy more than three miles of canvass on which to paint some 1,200 miles of panorama—the largest painting ever executed by man.

Banvard's friend Sellum Woodworth, describes his work in the following letter:

Banvard immediately conducted us into the interior of the building. Within the studio all seemed chaos and confusion but the life-like and natural appearance of a portion of his great picture, displayed on one of the walls in a year unfinished state. Here and there scattered about the floor were piles of his original sketches, bales of canvas and heaps of boxes. Paint-pots, brushes, jars, and kegs were strewn about without order or arrangement while along one of the walls several large cases were piled containing rolls of finished sections of the paintings.

On the opposite wall was spread a canvas extending its whole length upon which the artist was at work. A portion of the canvas was wound on an upright roller, or drum, standing at the end of the building and, as the artist completes his painting he thus disposes of it. Not having time to spare I could not stay to have all the immense cylinders unrolled for our inspection. Any description of this gigantic undertaking that I should attempt in a letter would convey but a faint idea of what it will be when

Juvenile Books Top Circulation

Randall County Public Librarian, Mrs. Chester A. Pierle, announced last week that juvenile books headed the circulation lists in Canyon in 1961. The information was derived from a 1961 progress report.

Mrs. Pierle said more Canyon children and teenagers have begun to check out books, resulting in the increased distribution. Average circulation per month on juvenile literature was 340.

Corresponding list and count, also one month's average, are fiction, 220 books; non-fiction, 207; and periodicals, 298. Total circulation of books for 1961 was 12,780.

Included in the report was the buying by the city and county of 130 new books. There were 153 donated with the total number of shelved books for the year tallied at 11,968.

Mrs. Pierle announced that there is a "good selection" of books on the "Texas Shelf" which contain the glory and splendor of the Lone Star State.

completed. The remarkable truthfulness of the minutest objects upon the shores of the river, independent of the masterly style and artistic execution of the work, will make it the most valuable historical painting in the world and unequalled for magnitude and variety of interest by any work that has ever been heard of since the art of painting was discovered.

Banvard first exhibited his remarkable painting in Louisville -- three miles of canvas wound around drums and slowly unfolding for two hours before the eyes of the observer. The first showing was a total failure but soon enough people heard about it and before long the people flocked to see Banvard's Panorama. From then on Banvard was a made man. In 1846 he took his panorama to Boston and the following year to New York. In 1848 he went abroad and showed it in Manchester, Liverpool, Bath and London. He died an extremely wealthy man on May 16, 1891.

The K-B Gallery says "in case any of you folks would like to beat the 3 mile record in canvas painting, they have canvas, tubs of paint, vats of turpentine, giant rags, mahsticks that can be used in pole vaulting, broom brushes and snow shovel palette knives. Beat the record!"

We hope you have your tickets for the Fine Arts Festival banquet to be held on Friday, February 16, at 7:30 p.m. Try to attend some of the events to be held all this week at WT.

The 1962 feed grain program information is about complete and Randall County growers should soon have ample information to make decisions for the 1962 crop. Some small details are troublesome and for this reason five district meetings are being set up in Texas to clarify final details. Our meeting will be held in Lubbock, Texas on Friday, Feb. 16. I will be going down with the members of the Randall County ASCS Committee to get the details.

Some explanation of the proposed programs for the future will probably be made.

The following is a letter from the Governor of Texas dated Jan. 25, 1962.

"The development of citizens and leaders for America is a high purpose in 4-H Club work. The 4-H program stresses development of head, heart, hands and health as well as teaching latest practices in agriculture and home economics.

Since the 4-H program was inaugurated by the United States government in 1914, the 4-H movement has spread across our nation and established bridges of understanding to more than 50 foreign countries. 4-H Club members learn by conducting result demonstrations and participating in 4-H activities. By putting into action what they learn, club members improve their homes and communities.

Voluntary adult leaders working with club members provide a key to the success of 4-H. Parents and friends of 4-H give support and encouragement to club members. The Agricultural Extension Service of the A&M College of Texas, through County Extension Agents, direct the 4-H Club program.

Any boy or girl from ages nine to twenty-one can take part in 4-H Club work. The opportunities offered to Club members to grow in citizenship, leadership and practical skills are especially valuable to them, to the State and the Nation. 4-H Clubs are a proving ground for the training of future leaders.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 3-10, 1962

as 4-H CLUB WEEK IN TEXAS."

The Texas crop and livestock reporting service release on February 9 shows a sharp decline in livestock and range condition over Texas. The Texas panhandle has the highest or best condition report. This report shows cattle and range conditions to be lower now than in time since 1957. Many parts of the state are dry and are suffering from the extreme cold temperatures in January. Range feed is short. Bad weather in February and March could force heavy movement of cattle from central, south and southwestern Texas.

Several soil samples were sent to the Laboratory in Lubbock this week for analysis. Fertilizer applications based on soil test results are better than a guess. The cost per sample is only two dollars.

The Texas panhandle from Randall County north has 17 small cattle feed lots, 20 medium sized feeding operations, and 6 large feed lots. Any feedlot handling under 1000 head is considered to be small. This information was taken from the Texas Livestock Marketing Directory just out. This directory lists auction markets, terminal markets, livestock dealers, wool warehouses, livestock organizations, marketing organizations, and breed associations.

TEXAS HIGHWAY Department personnel work to repair the damaged Canyon-Amarillo Expressway. Workmen have been busy with construction on a four-mile area for the last two weeks. They were forced to halt construction because of moisture under the paving. The project is estimated at $10,000. Another halt has been called this week until rock and asphalt can be brought in. Severe changes in weather caused the paving to deteriorate.

Expressway Construction Meets Unforeseen Delay

Expenses for repair of the Canyon - Amarillo Expressway continue to mount, and a new delay has been thrown in the path of Texas Highway Department workmen.

Al Morgan, Randall County maintenance foreman of the highway department, said this week that estimated costs on the expressway have climbed to $10,000. He said another $10,000 expense will be incurred on Highway 84, south out of Canyon.

The delay on the expressway, said Morgan, comes in the form of not having enough rock and asphalt. Bids for the material must now be made and processed in Austin before work is resumed. Morgan declared that the job could have been completed in two more days.

Most severe damage is a four-mile stretch of paving south of the Hollywood Road.

A rough coating of asphalt is presently being laid over the damaged area and will be graded level after the weather warms.

The Canyon highway official said that the sub-zero weather earlier this year caused a deterioration in the base and that thawing and heavy traffic caused the paving to become pulverized.

Re-election Is Sought By T.H. Lair

T. H. "Tommy" Lair has authorized The Canyon News to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of county clerk.

Lair is a native of Amarillo. He spent his childhood on the dairy farm of his father, T. G. Lair, between Amarillo and Canyon.

He is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State College until he entered the service in 1942. He was a bomber pilot in the European Theater of operations, was shot down and spent 18 months in a prisoner of war camp in Germany. He was liberated at the close of the war.

He is a member of the Methodist Church, the VFW and the American Legion.

He married the former Miss Jeanne Shaver of Knox City, who is a graduate of West Texas State. The Lairs have four children. They are Andrea, Tom,

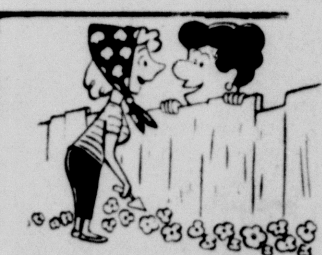

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McGregor and children of Fort Collins, Colorado, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Greiner. The McGregors are former residents of this city.

HARDWARE DEALERS

The 43rd annual convention of the Tri-State Hardware and Implement Dealers Association came to a close Tuesday night. Registration broke all records; 1,515 attended. M. D. Shepherd was re-elected secretary-manager of the association for the coming year.

Prize Holstein Shatters Texas Butterfat Mark

A registered Holstein cow owned by Louis G. Hinders, Canyon, has shattered an all-time Texas butterfat record in the official Herd Testing programs of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The national Holstein organization reports that Royal Star Gracious Ruby 4673345 (GP) established a new high for Senior 3-year-olds milked three times daily.

Her official 332-day production totaled 23,590 lbs. of milk and 889 lbs. of butterfat. Weighing and testing were supervised by Texas A&M College working in close cooperation with the national Holstein organization.

Royal Star Gracious Ruby was bred in the herd of Edward Hinders, Happy, Texas. She is a daughter of Wee Joe Gracious Wintorias 976710 (VG) -- a Gold Medal Sire.

The new record was made under the rules of Herd Improvement Registry--one of two herd - testing programs conducted by the Holstein Association. The second program is known as Dairy Herd Improvement Registry.

The two testing plans have a combined enrollment of more than 120,000 registered Holstein cows in more than 3,000 herds.

THIRD GRADERS LEARN ABOUT BIRDS IN UNIQUE WAY

THIRD GRADE STUDENTS give a classroom discussion on birds. Steve Cataldi, center, talks to classmates on the habits of a mallard. Sandra Woods, on the left, and Elizabeth Kerr, on the right, wait for their turn to discuss their birds. Raymond Stipe plays the sounds of each bird on a record player.

Third grade students in Canyon elementary school are taught about birds in a manner not many students can enjoy. They actually have stuffed birds on display for class discussion.

The purpose of the Audubon Junior Club is to acquaint boys and girls with the beauty and value of the world around them, and instill in them the desire to conserve our great natural resources for their own benefit and for the benefit of those coming after them.

Birds are fascinating. They come in every color of the rainbow, and in hundreds of different sizes and shapes. Bird-exploring can take you all over the world. But you don't have to budge out of your own back yard to discover many birds you might see on a long trip. Lots of them will come to you instead.

Most of the third grade boys and girls in Canyon Elementary School are junior members of the National Audubon Society.

They have organized themselves into clubs, each electing a President, Vice-President, and Secretary. A program chairman is elected at each meeting. The chairman chooses two helpers and together this committee plans the program. Officers are elected often so that each child holds an office during the club year. This stimulates lively group participation and provides excellent means of acquainting children with parliamentary procedure.

A membership fee of 25¢ is sent to the National Audubon Society, New York City, for which each member receives a button to be worn and a booklet "The Story of Birds For Audubon Juniors" to be enjoyed.

The booklet contains 16 reproductions of famous Audubon prints to be cut and pasted in the proper places to illustrate stories in the book. Materials in the book aid Junior Club members in making out programs for the club meetings. Such topics as these are included: What is a Bird? How to Get Acquainted With Birds, How to Attract Birds, Where to Find Birds, Bird Nests, Bird Migration, Bird Conservation, etc.

The club programs vary and are interesting. The program committee chooses one particular bird or family of birds to study. They search in all available materials in our room and the Elementary School Library for stories and facts. Most every member of the club is on the program each time. They read stories, poems, sing songs, conduct quiz programs, dramatize stories and often have a book review. They search for pictures and have attractive bulletin board arrangements.

A must on each club program is to say together the Audubon Junior Pledge which reads as follows:

As a citizen of my country, I pledge myself to try in every way I can to conserve its natural resources: its soil, water, plants and wild life, and to protect them from harm and waste.

The third graders have a collection of mounted birds in their rooms including about 25 different species. Most of these were found in and around Canyon. Over a period of years Mr. Simms has mounted birds for us and added to our collection several fine specimens. Friends have added to the collection also.

bird, scissor tailed flycatcher, flicker woodpecker, golden fronted woodpecker, cardinal, prairie chicken, sparrow hawk, meadowlark, yellowhead blackbird, red-winged blackbird and Arkansas Kingbird.

An Album of recordings of bird calls by the laboratory of ornithology, Cornell University is used after seeing pictures of a bird. After seeing a mounted specimen, hearing stories about the habits, then listening to the call or song, most students will be able to identify the bird everytime they see it.

A calendar of birds that are seen by club members is kept. The name of the bird, time and place it was seen and the name and the member who saw it is recorded.

Mrs. McCarter, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution, encourages our program of conservation by sending the club various types of Audubon stamps during the year.

The Audubon Club stimulates interest in all areas of the curriculum--in Language Arts, Social Studies and Geography, Elementary Science, Creative Arts and even in Arithmetic.
